Foreword

Here is an exciting adventure into a wonderful world of discovery by learning: Latin, a classical language whose riches are awaiting to be explored.

The teacher as a facilitator and a directive guide will navigate through the language and get the student acquainted with the Latin passages which are both relevant, interesting and age-appropriate. The learner besides acquiring mastery of the functional nature of the language will have a pleasurable experience in looking at the world and human experience with a unique perspective of 'Latinness'. The student will additionally be enriched with a thesaurus of inexhaustible English vocabulary which would be useful and illuminating in the pursuit of medicine, law, administration, science and other disciplines.

Moreover, the study of Latin helps the learner develop an analytical, logical and a disciplined mind capable of clarity and precision in thought and expression.

PREFACE

WHY LEARN LATIN?

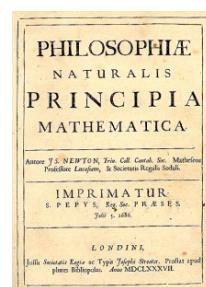

Latin was a major Indo-European language, spoken by the Latins, the inhabitants of Latium, a province of Italy, with Rome as the capital. As the Romans gained power in Italy and they conquered lands, Latin became the language of all Italy and finally of the Roman provinces of Gaul, Spain, Africa and Asia Minor. Hence Latin has had a great influence for so long a time on world culture.

Latin was the language of the Roman Monarchy, Republic and Empire from 753 B.C. to 475 A.D. It was a dominant language in western culture for 1500 years, and then remained important for another 500 years afterwards. It is quite impossible to study Latin without delving into Roman history, the history of the West and substantial portions of the East as well. The language of our legal system and administration are full of Latin words and phrases.

Kerala Council for Historical Research has undertaken the Muziris Heritage Project. This only documents extant related to the Early Historic Period of the western coast of India are in ancient Greek and Latin. This shows the need of Latin to trace our own history too.

For nearly two millennia, Latin was the tongue of the educated. It was the language of the western Church, governments, scientists, nobles, musicians and even poets. Latin was the language of the curriculum of Isaac Newton, Thomas Jefferson, William Shakespeare and Elizabeth I. Thomas More wrote his Utopia, Francis Bacon his Essays and most of his philosophical works in Latin. Copernicus, Galileo and even Goethe spoke and wrote in Latin. It was the language of the great luminaries of the Church such as Ambrose, Augustine and Aquinas.

*Sir Isaac Newton's Principia Mathematica,
the foundation of classical Physics and Mathematics is in Latin, not English, his native language.*

The study of Latin exposes us to a vast range of influential leaders and illustrious writers. Their wisdom literature is relevant to all times - their life, customs and what they accomplished.

Roman writers such as Vergil, Horace, Livy and Cicero became models of literary excellence for all succeeding generations. Milton, T. S. Eliot and Dante are all examples of writers who were influenced by Latin literature.

By learning one Latin root word, scribere, which means "to write" you can add to your vocabulary store all these English derivatives - ascribe, scribe, scribble, script, postscript, scripture, conscribe, conscript, conscription, describe, description, inscribe, inscription, prescribe, prescript, prescription, proscribe, transcribe, transcript, transcription - which are related. It is estimated that more than 60 % of English vocabulary is derived from Latin. Take for example the second page of The English Learner's Dictionary, out of 33 entries on that page 22 are directly derived from Latin.

The Romance languages - Spanish, French, Italian, Portuguese and Rumanian - derive 90% or more of their vocabulary from Latin.

Law, medicine, science, music, theology, philosophy and literature use many Latin words or English words derived from Latin. Someone once said, "If you know the vocabulary of a subject, then you know the subject."

As western law is steeped in Roman jurisprudence, so is its legal vocabulary in Latin. The terms such as prima facie, habeas corpus, nolo contendere, corpus delicti and amicus curiae are part of the everyday Latin vocabulary of practising lawyers.

Besides, Latin is also the language of science and medicine. Knowledge of Latin can provide a medical student with the winning advantage in medical studies. Latin words, phrases and mottoes used daily include alibi, vice versa, and e pluribus unum. Many abbreviations used in English are Latin. For example, p.m. is the abbreviation for post meridiem or afternoon; i.e. for id est or that is; and A.D. for Anno Domini or in the year of the Lord.

Nothing could be more incorrect than the idea that Latin is dead. On the contrary, in one form or another, Latin is very much alive today and in large measure. Latin continued to be the main language of discourse in many European universities into the early twentieth century. There are many organizations in the world today dedicated to the study of Latin. Nuntii Latini- News in Latin - is a weekly review of world news in Classical Latin. There is even a Latin radio station in Finland! All these efforts show Latin is very much ALIVE - there is renewed interest in learning Latin and you will find your own discovery of Latin interesting, stimulating, challenging and enriching. Welcome to an exciting journey!

INFLECTION AND CASES

Poeta filiam amat. Poetae lunam monstrant. Poeta, reginam laudas. Poetae, mensas ornatis. Filiam poetae amo. Mensas poetarum rosis ornamus. Nauta aquam poetae dat. Filiae stellas poetis monstrant. Regina poetam vocat. Spinae poetas vulnerant. Agricola cum poeta laborat. Reginæ cantant cum poetis.

Poeta filiam amabat. Poetae lunam monstrabant. Poeta, reginam laudabas. Poetae, mensas ornabatis. Filiam poetae amabam. Mensas poetarum rosis ornabamus. Nauta aquam poetae dabit. Filiae stellas poetis monstrabunt. Regina poetam vocabit. Spinae poetas vulnerabunt. Agricola cum poeta laborabit. Reginæ cantabunt cum poetis.

A. Inflection

In each of these sentences, the word poet is used in different forms. It changes its form in each sentence to indicate different meanings and uses. This change in the form of a word, in order to change its meaning and uses, is called Inflection.

e.g. is, am, are, were, etc. are the forms of 'to be.' (a verb)

The inflection of a noun, adjective and pronoun is called Declension. There are five declensions of noun in Latin. The inflection of a verb is called Conjugation. There are four conjugations in Latin.

B. Declension

To decline a word means, to give in order all its different forms.

Each of the form is called a Case.

In Latin there are six cases. They are:

1. Nominative case is used for the subject.

e.g. The farmer praises the queen.

Agricola reginam laudat.

2. Vocative case is used for addressing.

e.g. Oh, farmer, praise the queen.

Agricola, reginam lauda.

3. Genitive case is used for possession.

e.g. The daughter of the farmer praises the queen.

Filia agricolae reginam laudat.

4. Dative case is used for indirect object.

e.g. The daughter gives water to the farmer.

Filia aquam agricolae dat.

5. Accusative case is used for direct object.

e.g. The daughter praises the farmer.

Filia agricolam laudat.

6. Ablative case is used for expressing manner, time, place, agent, etc. after some prepositions.

e.g. The sailor works with the farmer.

Nauta laborat cum agricola.

C. Case, Number & Gender

There are six cases in Latin. They are given above.

There are two numbers in Latin.

a) Singular and b) Plural.

There are three genders in Latin.

a) Masculine, b) Feminine and c) Neuter

First Declension

Regina, ae (f) - Queen

Case	Singular		Plural
Nominative	Regin- a	a queen	Regin- æ	queens
Vocative	Regin- a	o queen	Regin- æ	o queens
Genitive	Regin- æ	of a queen	Regin- arum	of queens
Dative	Regin- æ	to a queen	Regin- is	to queens
Accusative	Regin- am	a queen	Regin- as	queens
Ablative	Regin- a	by/from a queen	Regin- is	by/from queens

POINTS TO REMEMBER

- ◆ Most of the nouns of the first declension are Feminine. A few of them are Masculine. e.g. agricola, poeta, nauta, etc.
- ◆ The declension is identified by the Singular Nominative ending and Singular Genitive ending. e.g. nauta, nautae
- ◆ There is no article in Latin. Regina means queen or a queen or the queen. When translating from Latin into English the right article must be inserted or omitted by the student in accordance with correct English usage.

D. Conjugation

The tense of a verb refers to the 'time'. In Latin there are six tenses. They are present, imperfect, future, perfect, pluperfect and future perfect. The first of these is present which tells us 'what is happening now'.

Inflection of a verb is called conjugation. There are four conjugations in Latin. Here the first one is conjugated in the present, imperfect and future tenses as follows.

First Conjugation

Amare - to love

Present Indicative (Simple Present & Present Continuous)	Am-o	I love/I am loving

MIDAS ET AURUM

Temporibus antiquis erat rex, Midas. Nomen regis erat clarum quod amicus Bacchi erat. Bacchus ab hostibus captus erat. A Mida liberatus erat. Bacchus vero fuit laetus. Bacchus ei nuntiavit: "Donum dabo". Hoc regi gratum erat. Donum accepit. Postea multa in aurum vertebantur, si ea tangebat. Rex donum dei bene amabat. Midas multum aurum facere vult. In aurum arbores altas atque terram aquamque vertebat. Ob donum suum deum laudavit. Aurum potius quam sapientiam habere mavult. Rex superbus auro suo factus erat. Nunc Midas domi est. Magno cum studio multa in aurum vertit. Tum edere volebat. Cibus aquaque ante eum a servo suo posita sunt. Ea petivit, sed sine mora in aurum versa sunt. Aurum edere nolebat. Tum Midas timore magno captus est. Sua mortem vero timebat. In locis ultimis proximisque aurum videbat. Ad Bacchum iit. "Id donum rogavi, sed non est donum bonum. Est poena magna malaque. Nunc auxilium peto". Deus ei auxilium mox dedit. Corpus caputque in flumine ponere eum iussit. Midas magna cum diligentia id fecit. Mox liberatus est, sed fluminis suum donum dederat. Post id tempus arenae fluminis erant aureae.

Exsurgens autem Maria in diebus illis abiit in montana cum festinatione in civitatem Iuda, et intravit in domum Zacchariae et salutavit Elisabeth. Et factum est ut audivit salutationem Mariae Elisabeth, exultavit infans in utero eius; et repleta est Spiritu Sancto Elisabeth; et exclamavit voce magna et dixit: benedicta tu inter mulieres, et benedictus fructus ventris tui. Et unde hoc mihi ut veniat mater Domini mei ad me? Ecce enim ut facta est vox salutationis tuae in auribus meis, exultavit in gaudio infans in utero meo. Et beata, quae credidisti, quoniam efficientur ea, quae dicta sunt ei a Domino. Et ait Maria: Magnificat anima mea Dominum: Et exultavit spiritus meus in Deo salutari meo. Quia respexit humilitatem ancillae suae: Ecce enim ex hoc beatam me dicent omnes generationes. Quia fecit mihi magna qui potens est: et sanctum nomen eius. Et misericordia eius in progenies et in progenies timentibus eum. Fecit potentiam in brachio suo, dispersit superbos mente cordis sui: Deposuit potentes de sede et exaltavit humiles. Esurientes implevit bonis et divites dimisit inanes. Suscepit Israel puerum suum recordatus misericordiae. Sicut locutus est ad patres nostros Abraham et semini eius in saecula. Mansit autem Maria cum illa quasi mensibus tribus; et reversa est in domum suam.

LOTIO PEDUM

Ante diem autem festum Paschae, sciens Iesus quia venit eius hora ut transeat ex hoc mundo ad Patrem, cum dilexisset suos qui erant in mundo in finem dilexit eos. Et cena facta, cum diabolus iam misisset in cor ut traderet eum Iudas Simonis Iscariotae: Sciens quia omnia dedit ei Pater in manus et quia a Deo exivit et ad Deum vadit: surgit a cena, et ponit vestimenta sua: et cum accepisset linteum, praecinxit se. Deinde mittit aquam in pelvam, et coepit lavare pedes discipulorum, et extergere linteum quo erat praecinctus.

Venit ergo ad Simonem Petrum et dicit ei Petrus: Domine tu mihi lavas pedes? Respondit Iesus, et dixit ei: Quod ego facio, tu nescis modo, scies autem postea. Dicit ei Petrus: Non lavabis mihi pedes in aeternum. Respondit Iesus ei: Si non lavero te, non habebis partem mecum. Dicit ei Simon Petrus: Domine, non tantum pedes meos, sed et manus, et caput. Dicit ei Iesus: Qui lotus est non indiget nisi ut pedes lavet, sed est mundus totus. Et vos mundi estis, sed non omnes. Sciebat enim quis nam esset qui traderet eum; propterea dixit: Non estis mundi omnes.

Postquam ergo lavit pedes eorum, et accepit vestimenta sua, cum recubuisset iterum, dixit eis: Scitis quid fecerim vobis? Vos vocatis me magister, et Domine: et bene dicitis; sum enim. Si ergo ego lavi vestros, pedes, Dominus et magister: et vos debetis alter alterius lavare pedes. Exemplum enim dedi vobis, ut quemadmodum ego feci vobis, ita et vos faciatis.

QUOTES

"Repetitio est mater studiorum."

(Repetition is the mother of learning.)

Tunc Iesus ductus est in desertum a Spiritu, ut tentaretur a diabolo. Et cum ieunasset quadraginta diebus, et quadraginta noctibus, postea esuriit. Et accedens temptator dixit ei: Si Filius Dei es, dic ut lapides isti panes fiant. Qui respondens dixit: Scriptum est: Non in pane solo vivet homo, sed in omni verbo, quod procedit de ore Dei. Tunc assumpsit eum diabolus in sanctam civitatem, et statuit eum supra pinnaculum templi, et dixit ei: Si Filius Dei es, mitte te deorsum; scriptum est enim: Quia angelis suis mandabit de te, et in manibus tollent te, ne forte offendas ad lapidem pedem tuum. Ait illi Iesus: rursum scriptum est: Non tentabis Dominum Deum tuum. Iterum assumpsit eum diabolus in montem excelsum valde: et ostendit ei omnia regna mundi, et gloria meorum. Et dixit ei: Haec tibi omnia dabo, si cadens adoraveris me. Tunc dicit ei Iesus: Vade Satana: Scriptum est enim: Dominum Deum tuum adorabis, et illi soli servies. Tunc reliquit eum diabolus: et ecce angeli accesserunt, et ministrabant ei.

"Concordia civium murus urbium."

(Harmony of citizens is the wall of cities.)

Caeca quaedam omnibus erat odiosa, amico excepto. Ille autem, misericordia motus, auxilium saepe ei ferebat quia magnopere puellam puer amabat. Nec solem lucem diei, lunam lumen noctis, nec coelum altissimum, mare infimum videre potest. Socius fidus tamen ei solarium et robur constanter in omnibus rebus dabat.

Quodam festo die, calore aestatis senso, sub arbore adumbrata ante prandium paratum sederunt amatores. Vox pulchra avium audiebatur. Multas canciones psallebant. Tunc dixit puella: "Utinam hunc mundum mirabilem videre possem! Deus Altissime, cur punivisti me orbam lucis dono? Nuptias facere vellem cum amico meo."

Laetus, respondit comes: "Omnia mea tua sunt." Mansit autem cum illa et sumptus medicos magnos fecit. Die nativitatis suae medicus eam vocavit et duos oculos donatos in ea transtulit. Ecce! Non tamen omnia primum nova et mirabilia conspicere poterat, sed amicum etiam amantissimum ipsum. Ait ille: "Nunc circumspicere omnem terram potes. Adhuc te incolumem custodiebam a calamitate et hinc te custodiam et diligam in aeternum. Te ducere in matrimonium possum, deliciae meae?"

Commota, perturbata et territa subito sponsum negavit: "Minime!" Spe deserta, dolore maximo, tristissime abiit. Deinde die nuptiarum epistolam brevem sponsa recepit: "Columba mea carissima, curam oculorum meorum habe. Amicus caecus tuus."

KERALA PULCHERRIMA

Temporibus regis Augusti Caesaris condimenta emebant ex emporiis Muziris Keralae mercatores Alexandriae et Felicis Arabiae. Piper appellebatur 'aurum nigrum'. Scripta Graecia et Latina narrant de mercaturis factis inter imperium Romae et incolas portus Muziris. Indicos portus iam noverant nautae et mercatores navigantes ex Mare Rubro. Historia Muziris nec est dissimilis historiae Pompeiorum.

Bonam fortunam habet populus Keralae. In locis ultimis proximisque viriditas videtur. Fecunda et fertilis est terra. Sunt multa flumina, aquae desilientes et lacus. Haec Indiae regionum pulchritudinis prestantissimae est. Incolae ruri et in urbibus habitant. Oppida turba congregata sunt. Multi foris laborant et pecuniam mittunt ad familiam. Illi patriam suam rursus videre cupiunt.

Haec regio Indiae superat educatione. Non solum linguam suam Malayalam amat sed etiam Anglicam, Latinam et duas vel tres alias Indicas discit populus. Litterati parentes sunt et liberos bene curant. Diebus festis ad theatra et litus contendunt. Nuptias festaque magno ardore concelebrant. Populus hospitibus placet et advenas summo studio et gaudio accipit. Nonne Kerala pulcherrima mea carissima te delectat?

ACTIVITIES

1. Scribe Latine amico epistolam de regione Keralae et populo suo.

(Write a letter in Latin to a friend describing Kerala and its people.)

The Most Beautiful Kerala

During the reign of Caesar Augustus, merchants from Alexandria and Felix Arabia used to buy spices from the emporia of Muziris in Kerala. Pepper was called 'black gold'. Greek and Latin manuscripts narrate the trade between the Roman Empire and the inhabitants of the Muziris port. Sailors and tradesmen putting out from the Red Sea had already known about the Indian ports. The history of Muziris is not dissimilar to the history of Pompeii.

The people of Kerala are fortunate. Greenery is evident in far and nearby places. The land is fecund and fertile. There are many rivers, waterfalls and lakes. This is one of the most beautiful regions of India. Inhabitants live in the country and in towns. Towns are densely populated. Many work abroad and remit money to their families. They long to see their fatherland or motherland again.

This Indian state excels in education. The people not only love their own language Malayalam but also learn two or three other Indian languages. The parents are educated and they take good care of their children. On feast days, they go to the movies and to the beach. They celebrate weddings and feasts with great enthusiasm. The people of Kerala are hospitable and welcome visitors with utmost warmth and joy. Don't you like my most beautiful and dearest Kerala?

PRONUNCIATION

Vowels

a as in father, e.g. ara, ama, vacca, casa, fama, ab.

e between e in get and a in same, e.g. stella, mensa, terra, fenestra, catena mea, de, te.

i as in feet, e.g. via, vita, filia, anima, ancilla, misera, miseria, in.

o as the a in call, e.g. collis, cor, corporis, Victoria, agricola, epistola, nostra.

u as oo in moon, e.g. luna, culpa, pecunia, dominus, tuus, rosarum.

y pronounced as the Latin i, e.g. martyr, martyribus, Cyprus, Olympia.

NOTE - When two vowels come together, without forming a diphthong, each keeps its own sound and constitutes a separate syllable, e.g. aio, ait, aiunt, aiebat, aer, eat, redeat, alea, deesse, Dei, diet, eorum, Deus, meus, oleum, meum, neuter, fiat, fiet, sapientia, abiit, venio, diu, coactus, poeta, introibo, boum, tua, tui, tuus. Pronounce : a-i-o, a-it, etc.

Diphthongs

◆ ae and oe are pronounced as one sound like e above.

e.g. rosae, caelum, praeesse, vae, proelium, moenia, coepit, foedus.

◆ au and eu form each one syllable, but both vowels must be distinctly heard. The principal emphasis belongs to the first which must be sounded purely.

e.g. lauda, causa, audacia, audere, Europa, heu, euge.

◆ ei is treated like au and eu only when it occurs in interjunctions.

e.g. hei ! (ah ! oh !). eia (ah ! come !).

◆ u preceded by q or ng and followed by another vowel keeps its formal sound, but is pronounced as one syllable with the vowel that follows.

e.g. qua, quae, qui, quo, equus, sanguis, lingua. -

Here the principal emphasis belongs to the second vowel. This gives us practically the sounds kw and ngw.

Consonants

- ◆ c soft as ch in church before e, i, y, ae, oe, e.g. cena, cibus, Cyprus, caelum, coepit, cecidit, Cicero.
- ◆ cc has the same sound before the same vowels.
e.g. ecce, vaccae, accipe, siccitas, accedit, accedere, accepi, occisus, ne peccemus.
- ◆ c and cc are otherwise hard as the k in Koran.
e.g. canis, cor, cura, causa, clamor, lac, sic, vacca, accola, accusare, siccus.
- ◆ sc as sh in ship before e, i, y, ae, oe.
e.g. scelus, scire, Scylla, scaevus.
- ◆ sc is otherwise hard as in scarf.
e.g. scando, abscondo, scutum, scribe.
- ◆ ch always hard as in character.
e.g. charta, cherubim, machina, bracchium, schola, archia, Christus.
- ◆ g soft as in gentle before e, i, y, ae, oe.

- ◆ gn as ni in onion.
e.g. magna, magnae, magno, magnus, agnus, regnum, regnare.
- ◆ h is pronounced as k in two words mihi and nihil, and their compounds.
e.g. mihine nihilominus.
- ◆ h in all other cases is mute, never aspirated.
e.g. hora, horas, homo, ab homine, vehi, vehementer, thesaurus, Rhenus, hic, hasta.
- ◆ j (also written i) as y in yes.
e.g. ianua, lesus, ieinium, iocus, iustus, iniuria, eius, maior, peius, lulius.
- ◆ ph as in philosopher.
e.g. philosophus, elephantus, Philippus.

- ◆ r is always trilled as in ivory.
e.g. amare, errare, error, carnis, martyr, virtus.
- ◆ s is slightly softened when coming between two vowels.
e.g. rosa, miser.
- ◆ s is otherwise sharp as in sudden.
e.g. subitus, sagittas, satis, sol, spes.
- ◆ ti followed by a vowel and preceded by any letter, other than, s, t, x, is pronounced as tee.
e.g. gratia, patientia, oratio, Ignatius, petium, altior, doctior, certior.
